

Last chance to get your tickets for the Aruba Music Festival 2006

Megastars of the seventies and eighties, Styx and Lionel Richie will be center stage at the Aruba Entertainment Center on Friday and Saturday night, and there is one last day to get your tickets. The Aruba Tourism Authority held their annual "Kick-off" party at the Tango restaurant on Wednesday evening, and Amayra Boekhoudt reported that bargain hunters were lined up down the length of the Arawak Gardens to get a last minute bargain rate on tickets.

The ATA reports that all the "gold circle" and "preferred seating" for the Lionel Richie concert is sold out, and nearly all for the Styx concert also. A limited number of general seating tickets priced at $44 are still available at the Depalm Tours desks in hotels, nearly all other outlets report they are sold out.

Concert organizers consider it a real coup to have signed both Styx and Lionel Richie to headline this year's event. Aside from performing the great pop classics of the last three decades, it is very likely Lionel Richie will entertain the audience with selections from his new album "Coming Home," including the single that is topping the Billboard charts since its release in July "I Call It Love." The opportunity to enjoy Lionel Richie live brought Claes, Corinne and Patricia all the way from Sweden to Aruba specifically to attend the concert, and the Kick-off party made it easy for them to obtain their tickets that they had purchased online, and enjoy a lovely dinner!

Do not miss out on this opportunity to experience two of the greatest superstars in the rock firmament, the band Styx, who just had another hit album with their 2001 tour to had to their dozens of award winning albums, and singer/composer Richie is not only a Grammy but Oscar winner for this music.

The ATA also thanked the sponsors of this year's concert, without whom it would not be possible; Aruba Resort, Casino and Spa, Radisson Resort, Aruba Marriott Resort, Occidental Grand Aruba Resort, De Palm Tours, American Airlines and US Airways, the official Airlines of the Aruba Music Festival 2006.
